COMPETITIONS.

Plans, &c. are wanted for erecting a Church at Southwell, Notts.—Further particulars of Mr. Wm. Shaw, Southwell, Notts. The successful competitor will be employed on the usual terms.

TO OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

We have not at present time to measure the altitude of St. Paul's Cathedral, which is seriously stated, and can therefore only refer to Pugin's Public Buildings of London, in which it is given at 360 feet from the internal marble pavement, and from thence to the foot of the western steps 13 feet more, but somewhat less towards the east, as the ground ascends to Pan's-alley, which is reputed to be the highest spot within the city of London.

We have received several complaints relative to the competition for the designing of the church at Southwold, but, not, knowing any of the parties or any of the circumstances, we cannot at present give any opinion.

ANONYMOUS.—In consequence of an Anonymous Advertisement having appeared in "The Times" of the date, stating that part of Trafalgar-square has been laid with Asphalte, the public are informed that such is not the fact, the material laid down there being only an imitation of Asphalte, composed of chalk, sand, and tar. The Pavement in Whitehall (opposite the Horse Guards), and that at the Duke of York's column, both laid down in 1838, are samples of works executed with the genuine Seyssel Asphalte.

SEYSSEL ASPHALTE COMPANY.

"CLARIDGE'S PATENT,"
ESTABLISHED 1838.

This ASPHALTE is a Bituminous Limestone, obtained from an inexhaustible Mine at Pyrimont, in the Jura Mountains.

Previously to its introduction into this country, in 1838, the Material had been used for many years in France, and from its great utility was extensively patronized by the Government of that Country.

Among the various uses to which it can be applied, the following may be enumerated:—For Foot-Pavements, public and others; on the Carriage Approach to Mansions, Gardens, Walks, and Terraces; the flooring of Kitchens and other basement offices; also of Conch Houses and Stables, Dog Kennels, Barn Floors, Cow Houses, Piggeries, Poultry Houses, Tan Rooms, and Maltings. For Roofing, Covering of Railroad and other Arches, the Lining of underground Cellars near Rivers to prevent the ingress of the Tides; also in Covering the ground, line of Gas, to prevent Stinking, (the application of the Asphalte of Seyssel is particularly recommended by the Commissioners on the Fine Arts, thereby rendering the basement stories in the worst situations both dry and warm. It is an excellent Cement, to applied to Docks, Breakwaters, or Walls built for resistance to the encroachments of the Sea. For lining of Tanks, Fish-Ponds, and other Hydraulic purposes.

COMMISSIONERS OF FINE ARTS' REPORT ON THE MEANS OF PREVENTING DAMP IN WALLS.

THE DIRECTORS of the SEYSSEL ASPHALTE COMPANY have much pleasure in recommending to the notice of Architects, Builders, and others, the application of THE ASPHALTE OF SEYSSEL, as the only effectual means of preventing DAMP rising in WALLS.

The following account of its application is extracted from "The Appendix to the Commissioners of Fine Arts Report, page 18.

"In 1839 I superintended the construction of a house of three storeys on the Line d'Enghien. The foundation of the building is constantly in water, about 9½ inches below the level of the ground-floor. The entire horizontal surface of the external and internal walls was covered, at the level of the internal ground-floor, with a layer of Seyssel Asphalte, less than half an inch thick, over which coarse sand was spread.

"Since the above date no trace of damp has shewn itself round the walls of the lower story, which are for the most part painted in oil of a grey stone colour. It is well known that the least moisture produces round spots, darker or lighter, on walls so painted. Yet the pavement of the floor, resting on the soil itself, is only about 7½ inches above the external surface of the soil, and only 19½ at the utmost, above that of the sheet of water.

"The layer of Asphalte having been broken and removed, for the purpose of inserting the sills of two doors, in digging the presence of damp have been since remarked at the base of the door-posts."
